

Bloviating with Bill

Intelligent Design is Not Science!

ID is perfectly acceptable as one of many diverse belief systems, but to claim that it is science is simply ridiculous! Occasionally a young person interested in pursuing a scientific career will ask me a question like, “Dr. Grant, why is there gravity?” My answer is always, “I have no idea. Maybe your priest or rabbi can answer that. I can’t. But I can tell you how gravity works!” And there you have it. Religion addresses the “why” of things, and science the “how.” Bill, debate this issue with me if you dare. I’ll eat your lunch!
